Welcome to HelloAI RIS!

10-WEEK BLENDED-LEARNING EXPERIENCE IN AI SOLUTIONS FOR SOLVING MEDICAL IMAGING CHALLENGES.

University students of medical, engineering and business faculties, young researchers, healthcare professional as well as those who are interested in exploring innovative solutions for more affordable and accessible healthcare are invited to apply for an online Artificial Intelligence (AI) training organized by GE Healthcare, LEITAT and the Royal Institute of Technology Stockholm (KTH), supported by the EIT Health by 11th June.

The aim of the HelloAI RIS Online program is to demystify the world of AI and introduce the fundamentals and practical implementation of AI to the participants is series on modules, sessions and live events. The training not only provides an online learning platform to learn, master these knowledge and challenges, but students can also take mentoring opportunities with highly qualified professionals from the organizers, GE Healthcare, KTH, LEITAT and other partners.

Join the free online training teaching AI to solve healthcare challenges!

Deadlines:

- Application deadline: May 11th, 2021

- Selection period: May 11th– 18th June 2021

- Training period: The training starts on June 21st, 2020 and ends on August 30th, 2021

 The program will feature full scholarship opportunities for the applicants from the RIS regions, based on your survey, CV, and cover letter.

HOW TO APPLY?

Go to www.bit.ly/HelloAIapply AND send your up-to-date CV/Resume to helloai.online@ge.com

More information can be found HERE - https://helloaionline.com